I am a small operator with just four wells. Only one of those qualified for the reporting process. That one well required somewhere around 10 to 12 hours of my time. Multiple phone calls with the cid and I had to call a computer expert in to help me. The system is ridiculously complicated. File the original in one format to one site then file it all again in another format to the RRC site. I can't even imagine having to go through this process with 100+ wells.
